

Roger Ostrander, M.D.

Orthopaedics

Office Location

Suite 200
Andrews Institute
Gulf Breeze, FL

Clinical Specialties:

Minimally invasive surgery of the shoulder, knee, elbow, and ankle
Orthopaedic surgery
Sports medicine
Arthroscopic surgery

Education:

Medical School: Boston University School of Medicine, Magna Cum Laude
Internship: University of California, San Diego
Residency: University of California, San Diego

Fellowships:

American Sports Medicine Institute, Sports Medicine & Arthroscopy,
Birmingham Alabama

Musculoskeletal Research, University of California, San Diego

Research Specialties:

Articular cartilage repair, baseball elbow injuries, surgical preparation solutions, rotator cuff repair

Current Research:

Arthroscopic triple rotator cuff repair: modified suture-bridge technique
Pressure and contact area comparison of triple row, suture-bridge, and standard double row rotator cuff repair
Minimally invasive repair of partial thickness (PASTA) rotator cuff tears
An investigation into the lunge

Major Publications:

"Anatomy of the Anterior Bundle of the Ulnar Collateral Ligament," Journal of Shoulder and Elbow Surgery, 2007.
"Efficacy of surgical preparation solutions in foot and ankle surgery," Journal of Bone and Joint Surgery, 2005.
"Residual bacterial skin contamination following surgical preparation in foot and ankle Surgery," Clinical Orthopaedics and Related Research, 2003.
"Donor cell fate in tissue engineering for articular cartilage repair," Clinical Orthopaedics and Related Research, 2001.

Scholarly Service & Honors:

Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society
California Orthopaedic Association's Depuy Resident Award, 2003
AOA-Zimmer 14th Annual Travel Award for USA Orthopaedic Residents, 2001
Western Orthopaedic Association's Vernon P. Thompson Award, 2001
California Orthopaedic Association's Orthopaedic Hospital Award, 2001
James Esch, M.D. Award, 2000
Gulf Breeze Hospital Award of Service Excellence for Outstanding Patient Satisfaction

Current Academic Appointments:

Andrews Institute, Faculty, Sports Medicine Fellowship
Florida State University College of Medicine, Clinical Assistant Professor
University of West Florida, Associate Faculty

Current and Past Team Affiliations:

United States National Indoor Lacrosse Team Physician
Auburn University Football & Athletics
University of West Florida, Team Physician
West Florida High School, Team Physician
Birmingham Barons AA Baseball
Pensacola Ice Pilots Minor League Hockey
Alabama Slammers Minor League Hockey, ECHL

(850) 916-8700
TheAndrewsInstitute.com